GIBSLAND BANK & TRUST NEWEST ADDITION TO VILLAGGIO

The Good Companies and NAI Latter & Blum Real Estate Service announce Gibsland Bank will open first branch in Bossier Parish at local development

(Bossier City, LA) – JULY 21, 2008 – Gibsland Bank & Trust will be the newest addition to Bossier City's Villaggio development according to The Good Companies and NAI Latter & Blum Real Estate Services. The bank, its first branch in Bossier Parish, will be located at one of the main entrances to Villaggio on Highway 80.

Gibsland Bank & Trust officially opened on April 15, 1948 on Third Street in Gibsland and is celebrating 60 years as a full service institution. With six current locations, Gibsland Bank & Trust employs over 50 people and has assets exceeding $130 million. "We are proud of our strong history in North Louisiana, and we're excited about moving into the Bossier City/Shreveport trade area," states J.R. Johnson, Chairman of the Board and Chief Executive Officer. "Our reputation is based on excellent customer service, and with the addition of Rick Holland to our staff as our Bossier Branch Manager, we are confident that we will be able to continue to exceed expectations in this area".

Bank President Thomas L. Martin said "We intended to make a strong statement with our first Bossier Parish location and Villaggio presented us with the perfect venue to promote our full service, customer friendly brand to the community. Being part of the Villaggio project and located in one of the most impressive growth corridors in Louisiana is exactly what we were looking for, Martin added.

John Good, Jr., developer of Villaggio and President of The Good Companies, added "Villaggio's design and concept is about community and having a local bank that prides itself on its community spirit and friendly service epitomizes what Gibsland Bank means to our development". Latter & Blum Director of Commercial Sales & Leasing, Karl Landreneau, stated "Gibsland Bank & Trust will be an incredible addition to Villaggio and be a perfect partner to the new and incoming businesses relocating to the area". www.gibslandbank.com
